

The Dragonsitter

From: Edward Smith-Pickle

To: Morton Pickle

Date: Thursday 5 September

Subject: Have you got what it takes to be a Dragonsitter?

 Attachments: Photo of the dragon

Dear Uncle Morton

Lots of people keep asking me whether they could be a dragonsitter like me. So I've made up this quiz. What do you think?

1 If you were a dragonsitter, what would you feed your dragon?

- a) Bricks
- b) Your sister
- c) Chocolate

2 Where would you let your dragon sleep?

- a) Out in the cold
- b) In your bed
- c) On the kitchen floor with some cushions

3 If your dragon needed the toilet, where would you let him do his business?

- a) In your mum's bedroom
- b) Behind the sofa
- c) Outside

4 How would you choose to exercise your dragon?

- a) Take it to your mum's aerobics class
- b) Let it chase your sister round the garden
- c) Let it out for a quick fly around before tea time

If you answered mostly:

A Oh dear, you need a lot of practice before you can be a dragonsitter. Perhaps you should read these books to get some tips.

B Well done, you've got potential to be a dragonsitter but you might cause a bit of chaos at home. Read these books to brush up your skills.

C Congratulations - you'd make a brilliant dragonsitter, just like me. Why don't you read these books and find out what happens when I have to look after Ziggy the dragon.

